Dr Sabrina Mancini

Honourary chairman Ray Lalonde President and Chief Executive Officer of the Alouettes

Ray Lalonde was named President and Chief Executive Officer of the Alouettes on March 16, 2011.

A native of Trois-Rivières, Quebec, Lalonde is a product of the Quebec minor football system, having played for the Vert et Or du Séminaire Saint-Joseph before joining the Diablos de Trois-Rivières at the Collegiate AAA level. Following his time with the Diablos, Lalonde would then call Percival Molson Stadium home for the first time in the fall of 1982 when he arrived at McGill University, where he would play four seasons for the Redmen while pursuing his Bachelor's degree in Education. The wide receiver/punt returner helped lead McGill to the playoffs three years out of four under the leadership of long time McGill coach and former Alouette Charlie Bailie. Following graduation, Lalonde then joined the Redmen coaching staff for one season.

In pursuit of his dream to be a part of a major NCAA program, Lalonde then moved on to Penn State University where he earned a Master's Degree in Sports Administration while serving as an assistant under legendary coach Joe Paterno. Over his two seasons with the Nittany Lions, Lalonde worked with both running backs and defensive backs.

When the World League of American Football was launched in 1991, the NFL developmental league made the Montreal Machine its only Canadian franchise. Lalonde handled communications for the Machine before serving as director of football operations until the league ceased operations following the 1992 season.

The hardwood would then come calling for Lalonde in 1989. After working at the NBA head offices in New York, he was chosen to initiate the start-up of NBA Europe and while based in Geneva Switzerland, Lalonde spearheaded grassroots and marketing initiatives.

In 2001, Lalonde would join the Montreal Canadiens who were looking to turn things around on the business end. Over his 10 seasons with the Habs, he oversaw a large portion of the club's business units, including ticket and luxury suite sales, consumer products, events and programs, digital media, broadcast, game production, and creative services.

Through his ongoing dedication to grassroots initiatives, Lalonde brought the Canadiens brand to new heights. From projects like the Canadiens@School program and the Canadiens Fan Club, to the one-of-a-kind Montreal Canadiens Hockey School, the gap between the players and their young fans was bridged like never before. Lalonde also spearheaded the team's Centennial initiatives. From unforgettable retired jersey nights honoring the likes of Ken Dryden, Bob Gainey and Patrick Roy, Lalonde and his team laid the framework for a series of memorable projects and ceremonies that culminated with the team's extraordinary 100th anniversary celebration on December 4, 2009. His marketing department was also the driving force behind the Centennial-fueled creation of Centennial Plaza and the Montreal Canadiens Hall of Fame at the Bell Centre.

Under Lalonde's tenure the team flourished on the business front, leading the NHL in most categories including attendance, with the team also enjoying six seasons of consecutive sellouts from 2005-06 through 2010-11.

Lalonde devotes his personal time to coaching both youth hockey and baseball and supporting various children's charities and animal rescue initiatives.

Ray Lalonde nommé président et chef de la direction des Alouettes le 16 mars 2011.

Originaire de Trois-Rivières, au Québec, Lalonde a fait ses classes dans le réseau du football mineur québécois. Après avoir porté l'uniforme du Vert et Or du Séminaire Saint-Joseph il s'est ensuite joint aux Diablos de Trois-Rivières du circuit collégial AAA.

Lalonde a fait son nid pour la première fois au stade Percival-Molson à l'automne de 1982 quand il a disputé la première de ses quatre saisons chez les Redmen de l'Université McGill tout en poursuivant des études en éducation.

Le receveur éloigné et spécialiste des retours de dégagement a contribué trois fois à l'accession de McGill en séries éliminatoires sous les ordres de l'entraîneur de longue date de McGill et ancien portecouleurs des Alouettes, Charlie Bailie. Une fois ses études achevées, Lalonde a fait partie du personnel d'entraîneurs des Redmen pendant une saison.

Lalonde est ensuite passé à l'Université Penn State où il a obtenu une maîtrise en administration du sport, tout en occupant un poste d'adjoint aux côtés du légendaire entraîneur Joe Paterno. Au cours de ses deux saisons avec les Nittany Lions, Lalonde a travaillé avec les demis à l'attaque et les demis défensifs.

Quand la Ligue mondiale de football américain a pris son envol en 1991, la ligue de développement de la NFL avait un seul pied-à-terre au Canada, soit la Machine de Montréal. Lalonde était responsable des communications du club avant d'en devenir le directeur des opérations football.

L'appel des planches s'est alors fait entendre pour Lalonde en 1989. Après avoir travaillé aux bureaux de la NBA à New York, Lalonde a été choisi au sein de l'équipe qui a démarré NBA Europe à Genève, en Suisse où il était responsable des programmes communautaires et des projets de marketing.

En 2001, Lalonde a été embauché par les Canadiens de Montréal qui désiraient améliorer leur situation sur le plan des affaires. En 10 saisons avec le Tricolore, il a supervisé une grande partie des opérations du club, notamment la vente de billets et de loges, les produits dérivés, les événements et les programmes, les médias numériques, la diffusion, la production de matchs et les services artistiques.

Par son dévouement sans cesse dans les initiatives communautaires, Lalonde a propulsé la marque des Canadiens vers de nouveaux sommets. Des projets comme Les Canadiens@l'école et le Fan Club des Canadiens en passant par l'École de hockey des Canadiens de Montréal unique en son genre, il a su rapprocher les joueurs de leurs jeunes partisans comme jamais auparavant.

Avec des soirées inoubliables de retrait de numéro de joueurs honorant les Ken Dryden, Bob Gainey et Patrick Roy, Lalonde et son équipe ont mis en place le cadre d'une série mémorable de projets et de cérémonies entourant les célébrations du centenaire des Canadiens, le 4 décembre 2009.

Son département de marketing a aussi été la force motrice de la création de la Place du Centenaire et du Temple de la Renommée des Canadiens de Montréal au Centre Bell.

SHRINE BOWL KING AND QUEEN

Hunter, Shrine Bowl King

11 year-old Hunter, from Peru, New York (USA) has been followed at the hospital since he was a baby. Born without a right hand, which impeded his mobility, his parents Eric and Jeannie along with their doctor's advice, decided the best care would be at Shriners Hospitals for Children®-Canada. Early in treatment, Hunter was fitted with a prosthesis which is worn when sometimes needed.

Hunter is quite active; he plays football (running back), indoor soccer, basketball, golf and snowboards, works out and runs. He is also quite the thrill seeker and loves to go cliff diving. You could describe the 6th grader as quite ambitious; he plans to attend California State or Stanford University to pursue his dream of someday becoming a CEO. Like most boys his age, he likes to hang out with his dad, vacationing with his family and playing video games.

His parents are quite touched by the treatment received at the hospital "The hospital staff from the occupational therapists to the doctors made us feel that he would be able to do anything he wanted. The prosthetics assisted Hunter in gaining confidence to pursue anything he wanted. He not only was treated like an equal often times he accomplished tasks before his peers. Being a part of Shriners for us is a gift not only to Hunter but us as a family" said Jeannie and Eric.

Hunter, roi du Shrine Bowl

Hunter, âgé de 11 ans et résident à Peru dans l'état de New York aux États-Unis, est un patient de l'hôpital de Montréal depuis son jeune âge. Né avec une main droite manquante, ses parents, Éric et Jeannie, décident de suivre les conseils de leur médecin et d'amener leur fils à l'Hôpital Shriners pour enfants® - Canada afin de recevoir les meilleurs soins possibles. Dès le début des traitements, Hunter se fait ajuster une prothèse qu'il porte lorsqu'il en a besoin.

Hunter est très actif; il joue au football, au soccer intérieur, au basketball et au golf. De plus, il fait de la planche à neige, il s'entraîne et il court. Hunter est aussi un peu casse-cou et adore faire des plongeurs du haut des falaises. On peut dire de cet élève de 6ième qu'il est ambitieux puisqu'il projette d'étudier à l'Université de la Californie ou à l'Université Stanford afin de réaliser son rêve d'être un jour président-directeur général. Comme tous les jeunes de son âge, il aime bien passer du temps avec son père, aller en vacances avec sa famille et jouer aux jeux vidéo.

« Des ergothérapeutes aux médecins, tout le personnel de l'hôpital nous ont dit que Hunter serait capable de faire tout ce qu'il veut » ont souligné Jeannie et Eric émus par les soins prodigués à leur fils. « Les prothèses ont permis de renforcer sa confiance. Non seulement il pouvait exécuter les tâches comme ses pairs mais il était souvent en avance sur eux. Faire partie du Shriners n'est pas seulement un cadeau pour Hunter mais il en est un pour toute la famille » ont-ils ajouté.

Margot, Shrine Bowl Queen

The Vignal family has witnessed the inspirational perseverance of their daughter Margot since she was born 13 years ago. Both parents Bryceidee and Cristobald were elated to find out that they were expecting twin daughters. Shortly after, doctors informed the new parents that Margot had cerebral palsy and did not expect her to progress at the same pace of her sister.

The family did not give up hope and turned to Shriners Hospitals for Children®-Canada and along with the advice of their doctors; they opted for Margot to undergo a selective dorsal rhizotomy in 2005 in which they saw almost immediate results, it improved her mobility drastically which in turn increased her autonomy. Later Margot underwent hip surgery further improving all aspects of her mobility. She has been followed regularly at the hospital for close monitoring of her condition and regularly undergoes physiotherapy and occupational therapy.

Margot attends senior class and is quite the sports enthusiast. The young woman recently won first place and the gold medal at the Défi Sportif in adapted tri-cycling. Like most girls her age, she also loves listening to music, going to the movies and playing on the computer.

The Vignals say that their daughter is "full of surprises!" adding that she has far surpassed most expectation that her doctors had for her, proving them wrong. Bryceidee has been so inspired by the treatment the hospital has given to her their daughter that she has joined the hospital's Family Advisory Committee.

Margot, reine du Shrine Bowl

Depuis sa naissance il y a 13 ans, la famille Vignal a été témoin de l'inspirante persévérance de leur fille Margot. Bryceidee et Cristobald étaient fous de joie à l'idée d'avoir des jumelles. Suite à cette bonne nouvelle, ils apprennent que Margot était atteinte de paralysie cérébrale et qu'elle ne se développerait pas au même rythme que sa sœur.

La famille n'a pas perdu espoir pour autant et, suivant les recommandations de leur médecin, se tourna vers l'hôpital Shriners pour enfants de Montréal. C'est ainsi qu'en 2005, Margot subissait une rhizotomie dorsale. Cette intervention a permis de constater presque immédiatement une amélioration de sa mobilité et une augmentation marquée de son autonomie. Plus tard, les médecins ont effectué une chirurgie à la hanche afin de l'aider à marcher plus naturellement. Par la suite, Margot a été suivie de près par l'hôpital et elle allait régulièrement à des sessions de physiothérapie et d'ergothérapie.

Margot suit des cours au secondaire et elle s'intéresse beaucoup aux sports. La jeune fille a récemment gagné la première place et une médaille d'or au Défi Sportif en tricycle adapté. Comme toutes les filles de son âge, elle aime écouter de la musique, aller au cinéma et s'amuser sur l'ordinateur.

Les Vignals disent de leur fille qu'elle est « remplie de surprise » et qu'elle a de loin dépassé les attentes que les médecins entretenaient. Bryceidee a été tellement touchée par les soins apportés à sa fille qu'elle s'est jointe au Comité consultatif de la famille de l'hôpital Shriners pour enfants.

Some Investment Advisors talk a lot about market timing.

Suzanne's strategy is a little different. She prefers to take the time – to listen, to understand your financial needs, and to build a plan that's right for you.

Merci! Le comité organisateur des Shriners de Karnak aimerait remercier les Nobles, les joueurs de football, les instructeurs, les commanditaires, les instructeurs honoraires et tous les individus qui ont supporté le 25ième anniversaire du Shrine Bowl à Montréal tenu au stade de Concordia le 8 octobre 2011. Suite aux efforts de tous, nous avons recueilli plus de 776000 $ depuis son inèption pour l'hôpital Shriners pour enfants de Montréal ce qui nous permettra de continuer notre programme d'excellence au niveau de la santé et de la recherche qui bénéficiera les patients qui fréquentent l'hôpital chaque année depuis 1925.

Thank you! The Karnak Shriners organizing committee would like to thank all of their fellow Nobles, football players and coaches, corporate sponsors, honorary coaches and individuals who supported the 25th anniversary of the Montreal Shrine Bowl held at Concordia stadium on October 8, 2011. As a result of their combined efforts we were able to raise in excess of $776,000 since its inception for the Shriners Hospital for Children in Montreal, allowing them to continue to provide the excellent health care and research that benefits the many patients that come through their doors each and every year since 1925.
